

BY THE CORPORATION ADJUDICATION BUREAU

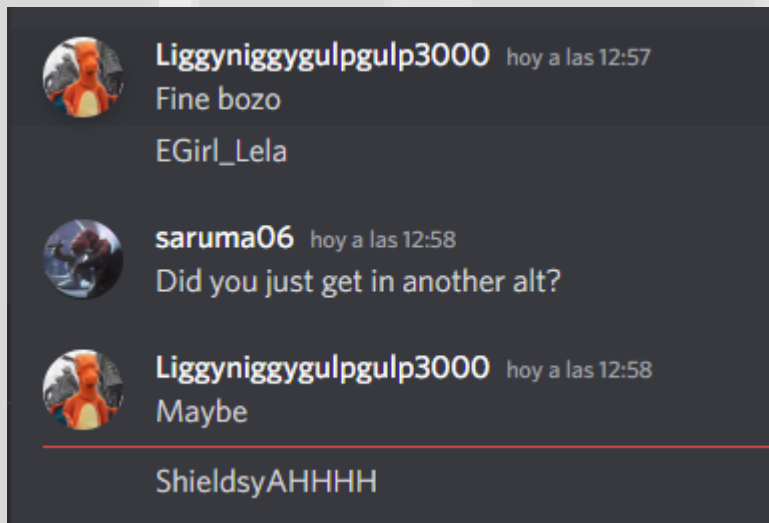

Charges

COUNT 1

Failing to abide by alternative account policy as per title 5, section 1. In violation of title 3, section 13.

Particulars

Defendant used an alternative account in the game without registering it.

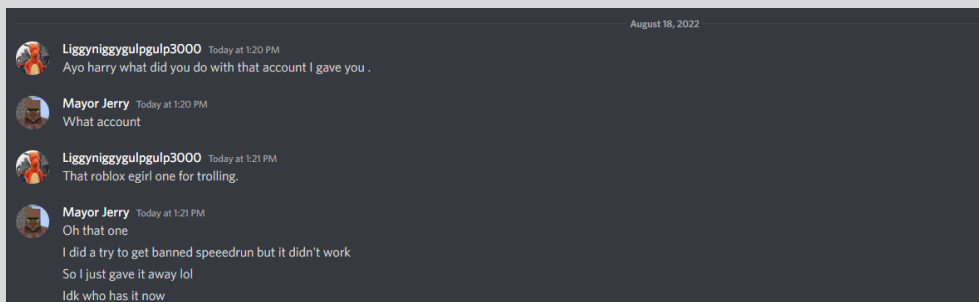

The picture shows that the defendant admitted to owning the account after being told to register it multiple times.

COUNT 2

Perjury, in violation of title 3, section 20(a).

Particulars

The defendant lied to an enforcement authority about ownership of their unregistered account.

A picture showing a defendant's statement that they no longer own the account, even though it was later proven that it was indeed their account.

Judgment

- The defendant admitted to the first count in public chats, evidence can be seen under count 1. Due to this, the defendant was found guilty of the first count.
 - The defendant was fully aware of the alternative account policy, but still decided to break it. This clearly shows no regard or respect for the corporation justice system.
 - The defendant lied about their ownership of the account before, clearly showing that their actions were malicious and intentional.
 - Due to the points made above, the defendant shall be punished with the longest temporary test subject reclassification authorized by the corporation law, and an additional punishment as per section 10(a)(4) of title 2, prohibition of activity, whereas they shall be disallowed from using an alternative account within the Crescent Corporation for 6 months.
 - The offense is classified as major.
- Due to sufficient evidence, the defendant was found guilty of the second count.
 - The defendant straight up lied to an enforcement authority, there are no mitigating circumstances. Their violations could be seen as contempt of justice, as they were purposefully attempting to mislead the justice system.
 - Due to the point above, the defendant shall be punished with the longest temporary test subject reclassification authorized by the corporation law, and an additional punishment as per section 10(a)(9), blacklist from the execution of public safety, administrative, or community service function or duty, whereas they shall be disallowed from holding a public safety or administrative function or rank for 90 days.
 - The offense is classified as moderate.

Outcome

- The defendant is sentenced to a capital punishment of 192 hours of temporary test subject reclassification, an additional punishment of prohibition of activity whereas they shall be disallowed from using an alternative account within the Crescent Corporation for 6 months, and an additional punishment of blacklist from the execution of public safety, administrative, or community service function or duty, whereas they shall be disallowed from holding a public safety and administrative function or rank for 90 days.

- Transferring accounts shall not be affected by the additional punishments.
- The defendant is given 8 criminal points.
